2017 ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERSHIP AWARDS

OBJECTIVE

The TLMI Environmental Committee would like to recognize the leadership effort of member companies that make a strong commitment to good environmental practices. The award recipients, one converter and one supplier, will demonstrate that good environmental practices also make good business sense.

ELIGIBILITY

All TLMI members are eligible to apply. You must be able to quantitatively measure environmental benefits by at least one of the following:

- Reduction of waste stream (solid waste, chemical, etc.)
- Expanding a recycling project
- Recovery of waste or energy
- Implementing a new "clean" technology or process
- Implementing an education program

SUBMISSION

Please answer the following questions about your company's environmental efforts. Please limit your responses to five pages. Supporting tables, graphs and illustrations are encouraged and not included in the five page limit. Judges will grade your application on how well your responses demonstrate the following:

- Pollution Prevention
- Environmental Leadership
- Tangible Benefits
- Relevance to Others
- Commitment to Industry & TLMI Environmental Initiatives

1. What practices have you instituted to reduce waste and/or energy consumption?
2. Describe the management practices in your company that show environmental commitment and establishment of new standards?
3. Detail the measurable environmental and economic benefits you have derived from your practices or program.
4. How could your program or technology be adapted by others in the industry or by end-users?
5. What is unique about your program, project or technological design?
6. List an qualified environmental management systems in which you are certified/compliant (for example, L.I.F.E.[®], ISO 14000, SGP). Are your facilities L.I.F.E.[®] certified or the process of certification?
