

TLMI and its members recognize that Per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) anywhere within the tag and label supply chain is a serious threat to the environment and poses significant human health concerns.

As a signatory to the Ellen MacArthur Foundation, TLMI and its members are committed to eliminating all known PFAS within their product portfolios.

TLMI fully supports the development of viable PFAS-free substitute applications across our members' supply and customer chains.

As is currently directed in several states, TLMI and its members are committed to understanding and accurately reporting known PFAS elements within their supply chain either to requesting companies or regulatory agencies, as required.
